

Probation's Most Wanted-The Best of the Best

To find out if you can be among LAC Probation's "Best of the Best", consider the following questions:

- Are you reflective? Do you assess a situation before you take appropriate action?
- Do you frequently take things personally (others' comments, glances, etc.) and want to retaliate?
- Do you frequently yell at people?
- Have you been in five or more physical fights in your lifetime?
- Are you physically fit?
- Can you stand for long periods of time (16 hours)?
- Do you possess group leadership skills?
- Do you have work experience with anti-social personalities?
- Do you have experience working with adults and/or juveniles in groups?
- Can you write succinctly and clearly?
- Do you understand and practice correct grammar, punctuation, and spelling?
- Can you type at least 40 words per minute?

If you have these traits, you are more likely to be successful if you are hired to work for LAC Probation. You still have to go through the exam and background process.

For more information on the background process, Click here

For current job openings, Click here

For Further Information: <http://dhr.lacounty.info> and search for "Probation"